

Ascend

By K. Brendi Poppel

God within and high above,
Source of life and light and love,
You, alone, created man
As an essential part of your Paradise plan ...
We are on an endless journey, if we choose to be,
The road is long and arduous from here to eternity ...
And what an amazing adventure awaits the human race,
Knowing God and eventually... the Paradise embrace ...
So climb aboard for the Lord,
In order to ascend on high,
You need faith the size of a mustard seed,
And you will surely fly ...
Through galaxies and life unending ...
Arise and shine, the divine ascending path unfolds for all ...
Who choose to heed his call.
Thank you for these eyes to see, and these ears to hear,
So fortunate are we who know that you are always near ...
Thank you for the air we breathe and the lives we live
It is You who we believe in and are grateful for the love we have to give and so much more, so much more ...
The list goes on and on and on
And soon, too soon these lives are gone,
And then, and then it never ends ...
As we ascend, ascend, ascend, ascend, ascend, ascend ...
