

Be You

By K. Brendi Poppel

Be you like a little child, innocent and open,
Do not doubt, you will go far, Let a ray of hope in.
Listen to that Inner Voice and you will keep on learning,
God will fuel the flames of passion that are brightly burning.
Never cease to grow, you know, you're a baby in God's eyes,
One short life upon this earth can hardly make one wise,
But you will gain through struggle, and triumph in God's sight,
Let your heart be happy and your soul dance with delight.
Breathe in the sparkling Spirit breath,
Life's just beginning, the transition of death is a joyful journey beyond time and space,
The children of God are lovingly embraced,
And carried higher and higher and higher through circles of eternity,
Be you like a little child, free forever, be forever free ...
