

O Lucifer

By K. Brendi Poppel

O Lucifer, how could you!
Betray our Father and his divine plan?
O fallen leader, what havoc you wrought!
You brought death and darkness to the souls of man
Shame on you, who corrupted minds
And led even angels to go astray
Rebellious traitor, woe to you!
Now no more will you have your way
For your folly has faltered
Your deception's derailed
Since the coming of Christ Michael,
Your power is curtailed.
Doomed is your dragon
Your deceit is your demise
Your fate is decided
And no alibis ...
Will save you from your selfish pride
Or cover your conceit
You dug your own grave
Now no one can save you
Go down in defeat!
For once you were a beloved Son
Brilliant to behold
But you perverted yourself
With an orgy of sin
And now the truth be told ...
The once great ruler who dared deny
Our Heavenly Father above
Will reap the wages of his sin
As evil is consumed by the light of God's love.

Copyright ©

All rights reserved by K. Brendi Poppel