

We Seek to Walk in Beauty

By K. Brendi Poppel

The sun, the moon, the stars and the sky,
Vast ocean expanse, flocks of birds up on high,
Squirrels and gophers, dolphins at play,
Just another typical California day.

Who could conjure up this magnificent plan?
Certainly not mortal man,
The seasons, the reasons for being alive,
The journey, the adventure, the will to survive.

Evolution, the solution to move us ahead,
Progression towards perfection as we choose to be led,
Into God's vision, as we walk in the Light,
Behold the brilliant creation within our sight.

All glory to God, Creator divine,
Let us live in the Lord and may his light shine,
Through us and to us, Guide us this day,
We want to walk in beauty, Lord, please show us the way.
